Medlink X is a one day event for parents/guardians and young people in years 9/10, aimed at laying the foundation and preparation for a successful future application to either medicine or veterinary medicine.

Medlink and Vet-Medlink have successfully provided courses for some 120,000 young people, many of whom have achieved places to read medicine and veterinary medicine. As the competition for places has grown, so has the need for young people and their parents to prepare earlier for a successful application. From GCSE and AS level choices, through to early work experience, there is a great deal that can be done to provide children and parents with the necessary competitive advantage. This event will provide the background and information that will equip parents of young people to prepare for a successful application to medicine or veterinary medicine.

The day offers a rich selection of talks, some of which are aimed at parents, others at young people and some for both. In addition there will be practical sessions that will inform young people about their chosen profession whilst motivating them to work for their goal.
