We are pleased to offer you the opportunity to have your personal statement, as sent to UCAS, individually analysed and personally commented on.

This service offers the following:

The opportunity for potential problems, errors and weaknesses in your application to be identified and corrected before you apply.

Suggestions on how you may improve your personal statement, to increase your prospects of being offered a place at Medical School.

We will reply with a detailed audio commentary on your personal statement.

This is a unique opportunity to hear your statement being personally analysed. You will hear their initial reaction to what you have written, followed by a detailed analysis of your strengths and weaknesses with suggestions for improvement. Entry to medicine is highly competitive, so we are pleased to offer you this additional service as a means of strengthening your application.
